

PASS HARBOR BILL WITHOUT A CHANGE

APPROPRIATIONS OF $12,200,000
ARE AUTHORIZED.

After Long and Animated Discussion
in the Senate Only Nine Votes
Are Cast Against the Measure—
Rinaker-Downing Contest Sent Back to Committee.

Washington, May 14.—The river and harbor appropriation bill was passed by the senate Wednesday after an unusually stormy experience lasting many days. As finally passed the bill makes direct appropriations of $12,200,000 and authorizes continuing contracts of $64,000,000, an aggregate of about $76,000,000. During the debate the statement was made that this was the largest aggregate for a river and harbor bill in the history of the government. Mr. Gorman sought to secure an amendment to the bill limiting the contract expenditures to $10,000,000 annually, but the amendment was tabled—yeas, 40; nays, 23. Mr. Frye, chairman of the commerce committee, closed the debate on the bill by a statement showing the remarkable development of American commerce and the consequent decrease in freight rates. On the final passage of the bill nine senators voted in the negative.

The bill was taken up as soon as the senate convened, the agreement being that the final vote be taken at 3 p. m. The pending question was Mr. Gorman's amendment directing the secretary of war to so apportion contract appropriations that not more than $10,000,000 be expended on contracts in any one year.

Mr. Vest opposed the Gorman amendment, declaring that it would permit the secretary of war to nullify the river and harbor bill and to substitute his opinion in lieu of that of congress.

Mr. Gorman insisted that there was not an abdication of power but merely a limitation of the power of the secretary of war. If he were secretary of war, said Mr. Gorman, he would apply the rule suggested by Mr. Sherman of not obligating the government for one dollar of these contracts until congress made provision for the revenues to meet them.

In reply to a suggestion of Mr. White (dem., Cal.) that the secretary of war had already shown a disposition to restrict river and harbor work, Mr. Gorman took occasion to express his high personal regard for the present secretary of war, but the senator felt that he could not conscientiously give his vote to a measure that would "put it in the power of one man to spend money that the government does not possess."

Mr. Allison proposed an amendment fixing the limitation on contract expenditures at $12,000,000 annually.

Mr. Vest moved to table the Gorman proposition and all amendments, which motion prevailed—yeas, 40; nays, 23.

The Sabine pass, Texas, project was reduced from $1,403,000 to $1,000,000 on motion of Mr. Frye.

Mr. Lindsay (dem., Ky.) offered an amendment directing the secretary of war to so adjust contracts that not more than 20 per cent of any one appropriation would be expended any one year.

Mr. Smith (dem., N. J.) said he hoped some amendment limiting expenditures would prevail. The aggregate of the bill, including contracts, reached about $70,000,000, an amount unprecedented and double that in the best times of the country. Considering the business conditions of the country and of the treasury—part of the government money being raised by bonds—congress was not justified in appropriating a greater amount than ever before in the history of the government.

On motion of Mr. Frye the amendment of Mr. Lindsay was tabled—yeas, 37; nays, 18.

The bill was about to be put on its final passage when Mr. Frye asked fifteen minutes to answer criticisms that had been made on the bill. Never before, said Mr. Frye, had there been such a unanimous demand for river and harbor improvements as there had been this year. It had come from all sections. It had been the demand of the American people, and in response to that demand this bill was presented.

The bill was then put on its passage. Mr. Smith (dem., N. J.) demanded the yeas and nays.

On the roll call the bill was passed—yeas, 57; nays, 9.

The chair named Senators Frye, Quay and Vest as conferees on the river and harbor bill.

The bill was passed with amendments authorizing the construction of a bridge over the Missouri river to the city of St. Louis, from some suitable point between the north line of St. Clair county, Illinois, and the southwest line of said county.

A number of bills were passed granting condemned cannon to the Grand Army of the Republic posts, to one of which Mr. Chandler (N. H.) secured an amendment that all remaining condemned cannon be given to the National Grand Army of the Republic.

RINAKER-DOWNING CONTEST.

Case Sent Back to Committee with Orders to Count the Ballots.

Washington, May 14.—The house, after one of the hardest-fought parliamentary battles of the session, which continued until almost 9 o'clock

Wednesday night, recommitted the contested-election case of Rinaker vs. Downing, from the Sixteenth Illinois district to the committee on elections with instructions to recount the ballots in dispute. The vote stood 139 to 35—divided as follows: Yeas, 67 republicans, 69 democrats and 3 populists; nays, 35 republicans. The case was debated Tuesday and Wednesday until shortly after 5 o'clock. The supporters of the majority report to unseat Downing (dem.) and seat the contestant realized that the minority report would probably be adopted, and they inaugurated a systematic filibuster to gain time to rally their forces. The first test of strength on a motion to adjourn—96 to 139—confirmed their suspicions, but they fought valiantly to the end and went down in the last ditch after staying off the final action for four hours. The speaker gave them considerable leeway at the beginning of the fight, but toward the end he declined to tolerate dilatory tactics. As a last resort many of the supporters of the majority report refused to vote, but the speaker counted them, and the democrats and dissenting republicans scored their victory.

The speakers were Messrs. Cook (rep., Ill.) Heppburn (rep., Iowa) and Connolly (rep., Ill.) in favor of the contestant, and Messrs. Lacey (rep., Iowa), Shafer (rep., Colo.) and Dalzell (rep., Pa.) in favor of the resolution of the minority to recommit the case and recount the official votes.

In closing the debate Mr. Dalzell declared that a partisan decision of the case would be a disgrace to a republican congress. Mr. Moody (rep., Mass.), in charge of the minority side of the contest, having failed to effect an agreement as to a vote, gave notice of his purpose to demand the previous question. The members of the Illinois delegation, Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Cannon, vainly pleaded for delay and Mr. Dingley the floor leader of the majority, suggested that the majority should have an opportunity to close the debate. To this appeal he yielded by offering fifteen minutes to the other side to close, but Mr. Cannon declined the offer. Mr. Hopkins said, after Mr. Moody had demanded the previous question, that many members had left the hall supposing a vote would not be taken, and he therefore interposed a motion to adjourn. This furnished the first test of strength. On a rising vote the motion was defeated 95 to 134. Mr. Hopkins then demanded the yeas and nays, which resulted, 96 to 139.

The previous question was then ordered—143 to 76. Despite the great odds against him, Mr. Cannon moved to reconsider the vote by which the previous question was ordered. Mr. Moody moved to lay the motion on the table. The roll was again called and Mr. Moody's motion prevailed—146 to 69. Mr. Hopkins then interposed a motion to adjourn, which was lost—63 to 133. Before the vote was announced Mr. Hopkins demanded a recapitulation.

"The chair refuses it," said the speaker sharply, amid a burst of applause.

"I would like to know upon what grounds," exclaimed Mr. Hopkins, hotly. "I demand a recapitulation as a right, not as a courtesy."

"And the chair refuses it again," said the speaker, firmly. The filibusters, having exhausted every expedient, were then obliged to allow the vote to be taken on the substitute for the majority resolutions in favor of seating Rinaker. Quite a number of the advocates of the majority resolutions left the hall on this roll call, but the quorum held and the substitute was agreed to—139 to 35; eleven present and not voting. The resolution as amended was then adopted—137 to 12. The speaker counted thirty-three present and not voting to make up the quorum.

Mr. Hopkins made the point of no quorum on the formal motion to lay on the table the motion to reconsider, which on a rising vote resulted 129 to 4. The speaker, however, amid great applause counted the house and announced 108 members present.

"I challenge the count of the speaker," shouted Mr. Hopkins, "and ask for tellers."

"The chair disregards the challenge," replied the speaker. The house then adjourned.

Minister Terrell's Mission.

Washington, May 14.—The coming of United States Minister Terrell to Washington from his Texas home, it can be stated, is not because any emergency exists, nor any threat of trouble in Turkey. He has been summoned here by the president for consultation. It was the understanding when Mr. Knapp, the American missionary who was expelled from Bitlis, was brought to Constantinople under charges preferred by the Turkish officials, that his trial would take place before Minister Terrell, and this fact may operate to hasten Mr. Terrell's return to Constantinople.

Drops $8,800 in the Street.

Cincinnati, May 15.—Morris White, president of the Fourth National bank, lost $8,800 in securities Wednesday. He had gone to the office of W. E. Hutton & Co., brokers, to collect two call loans, it being a fact of his to attend to such loans personally. There was a hitch in the transaction, and Mr. Hutton told Mr. White the checks would be at the bank in time for clearance. Mr. White then returned to the bank, and on arrival there, found that he had lost the evidence of the loans and the collaterals, which he had taken to the broker's office, to deliver on payment.

BISHOPS RETIRED BY METHODISTS

TO BE PENSIONED BY THE CHURCH.

Committee at the General Conference So Decides—Advanced Age of Bishops Bowman and Foster the Cause—Other Business Transacted at the Cleveland Meeting.

Cleveland, O., May 14.—At a secret meeting of the committee on episcopacy Wednesday afternoon a partial report to be presented to the general conference Thursday morning was prepared and approved. By invitation Bishops Foster, Bowman and Taylor, whom it has been proposed to relieve from active work in the church, were present and addressed the committee. Bishop Taylor is 75 years old, Bishop Foster 76 and Bishop Bowman 80. Bishops Foster and Bowman said they still felt able to do good service for the church, but were content to retire if the conference thought it best they should do so. Bishop Taylor made a strong plea to be allowed to continue in harness. By an almost unanimous vote it was decided to recommend to the conference that Bishops Foster and Bowman, "owing to their non-effectiveness," be relieved from duty and be pensioned by the church. Then it was decided to recommend the election of three bishops in the place of the two to be pensioned and that one of them be of African descent, thus increasing the board of bishops by one member.

The committee also decided to recommend that missionary bishops continue to be maintained in Africa and India and that an additional bishop be sent to the Indian field, as it is too large for one man to look after. If this clause is adopted it will necessitate the election of another missionary bishop before the conference adjourns. In this connection Bishop Taylor's case has also to be disposed of and, if he is pensioned, his successor will also have to be chosen.

The committee on itinerancy has prepared a report. It recommends the retention of the time limit system in its entirety with one exception. The rule has been prepared which will permit in exceptional cases of the extension of the time of a pastor in one charge after the five years is up from year to year until ten years' service has been rendered. This extension can only be granted by the bishop presiding at the annual conference to which the pastor belongs, when the application for the pastor's retention had been first approved by a three-fourths vote of the quarterly conference and subsequently by a majority vote of the presiding elders.

At the morning session the Rev. Dr. A. S. Hunt, secretary of the American Bible society was introduced to the conference and invited to take a seat on the platform. The Rev. Dr. Richard Haney of Central Illinois conference, aged 85 years and who was ordained a minister sixty-three years ago, and made a presiding elder fifty-two years ago, was accorded a similar courtesy.

A report in which a change was proposed in the matter of baptism caused a prolonged debate. The proposition was to the effect that those who were sprinkled in infancy could, if desired, be immersed when they grew older. This was opposed by Dr. Leonard and others on the ground that it was a discrimination against infant baptism, and after a prolonged discussion the report of the committee was recommended.

The committee on book concern made an adverse report on the recommendation to establish a Methodist daily paper. It also made a like report on the recommendation that the Western, Northwestern and Central Christian Advocates be consolidated into one paper for the Mississippi Valley. The report was immediately adopted. The proposition to substitute the term "general church" for "holiness catholic church" in the discipline was defeated in the revision committee. The amusement committee refused to approve any of the changes proposed regarding amusements.

Africans Elect Three Bishops.

Wilmington, N. C., May 14.—William B. Derrick, of New York city, James H. Armstrong of Washington, D. C., and James G. Embrey of Philadelphia were elected bishops at Wednesday's session of the general conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church. Bishop Henry M. Turner, the senior bishop of the church, presided during the election. The contest was close and interesting. Over a dozen candidates were voted for. The Rev. W. B. Derrick had served the church for the last seven years as secretary of missions. Dr. Armstrong was elected four years ago to the office of financial secretary, while Dr. Embrey has served as manager of the book concern and publication house for twelve years.

Kissed His Girl Typewriters.

Philadelphia, May 14.—The promiscuous kissing of girl typewriters must cease, declared Judge Biddle in court today. Then he sent William Bittles to prison for six months for kissing Miss Edith Crowther, whom he employed as a typewriter in his fashionable livery stable. The girl is only 15 years old, and is very pretty. She said Bittles kissed her the second day she was in his office.

These prisoners were fifty-nine in number, and each of them was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, with £2,000 ($10,000) fines, or, failing payment, one year's additional imprisonment and three years' banishment after the expiration of the term of imprisonment.

AMERICANS CAPTIVE IN CUBA

Barnett and Leavitt, It Is Believed, Will Be Given a Civil Trial.

Havana, May 14.—The United States has intervened in behalf of two more of the men of the schooner Competitor—Charles Barnett and William Leavitt. They were brought here from Bahia Honda, having been captured in Pinar del Rio after they landed. They are citizens of the United States, and so notified the consul-general, Mr. Williams. They also informed the consul-general that they were unarmed when captured.

Consul-General Williams has, in consequence, presented their claim as regularly made in such cases, that the men shall be tried by the ordinary civil court and not by court-martial, according to the rights guaranteed to citizens of the United States by treaty. It is not expected that any difficulty will be found in securing Barnett and Leavitt a civil trial.

Key West, Fla., May 14.—Advices from Havana tonight state that in the recent action between Antonio Maceo and General Yncien at Cacarijaca, Pinar del Rio, 400 Spaniards were killed, while the Cubans lost seventeen. Sclaras, the famous Cuban leader, was killed in this battle.

GLADIATOR OFF FOR CUBA.

Filibusters Slip Away from Uncle Sam's Revenue Cutter.

Fort Myers, Fla., May 14.—After being watched for several days by the United States revenue cutter Forward, the schooner Gladiator slipped away from this place at 11 o'clock Wednesday night with arms and men for Cuba. The revenue cutter left Monday, her commander having concluded that the Gladiator would be put to no illegal use. As soon as the cutter left the filibusters completed their preparations and the Gladiator sailed. The schooner carries a large cargo of munitions. It is said that there are on board 1,200 rifles, about the same number of machetes and revolvers, 250,000 rounds of cartridges and a quantity of dynamite. She also carries four rapid-fire Washburn guns. When the schooner left here there were forty men on board, and about forty more will be taken from one of the Florida keys. A. F. Gonzales, a native of Cuba, but a naturalized American citizen, commands the expedition. There are several native Americans on board.

Noted Physician Dead.

Paris, May 14.—Germain See, the distinguished French physician, is dead. Germain See was born in 1818 of a Hebrew family. His teachings attracted great attention abroad by reason of the accusations of materialism brought against him. In 1869 he was elected a member of the Academy of Medicine. In 1870 he was called to attend Emperor Napoleon III, and reported upon the consultation which fixed the nature of the emperor's malady. He was made an officer of the Legion of Honor in 1876 and commander of that order in 1880. M. See has written a large number of treatises and has devised a number of important new medicines.

CLOUDBURSTS IN WISCONSIN.

Twenty Bridges Washed Away—Buildings Undermined—Storm at St. Louis. St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—Western Wisconsin was visited by the greatest storm in years Wednesday afternoon and evening. There were cloud bursts at Colfax and Bloomer and great damage was done. At 10:30 it was still raining in torrents and Bloomer is shut off from all communication. Many buildings are undermined there. At least twenty bridges reported washed out in western Wisconsin. A street car struck a prostrate pole, carrying it a block. The car was ablaze with electricity and the motorman and conductor were severely shocked and narrowly escaped death.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—One of the most terrific wind and rain storms that ever struck this city prevailed Wednesday afternoon. Trees, signs, chimneys, smokestacks, house roofs and telegraph and telephone poles, with their burdens of wires, were prostrated in various sections of the city. The continuous and heavy streams of water which fell formed a connection between the trolley wires and the ground, causing the escape of the fluid, which resulted in a stoppage of cars all over the city during the storm. Two unknown men in a skiff near the Illinois side of the river were drowned by the capsizing of their boat. The same storm prevailed throughout Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas and the lower and central Mississippi valley.

Colored People Stirred Up.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—The decision of the Illinois Supreme court declaring that marriages between slaves prior to the emancipation of 1863 were null and void, and that no marriage contract between slaves could be valid, has stirred up considerable discussion among the colored people here. J. W. Holmes, a leading colored lawyer, says 90 per cent of the 10,000,000 colored people in this country are direct descendants of slaves. If the Illinois decision is recognized in future litigation it will cause considerable confusion. The precedent established will be dangerous to the vested rights of property held by the descendants of slaves.

The damage from the fire was confined to the attics of the house and to the ceilings of the upper floor.

Mr. Glenn Opposed Blackburn.

Washington, May 14.—The senate committee on postoffices and post-roads Wednesday decided to report adversely the nomination of T. J. Glenn as postmaster at Carlisle, Ky. It was also stated that Senator Lindsay was opposed to the confirmation.

Dental Student Convicted of the Fearful Crime That Startled the World Some Weeks Ago—Twelve Men Got the Case This Morning, and Brought in a Verdict This Afternoon—Great Legal Battle Ends.

Newport, Ky., May 14.—Scott Jackson killed Miss Pearl Bryan. So said the twelve men who heard the evidence on the trial of the dental student. The case was put in their hands this morning, and just after noon they brought in the verdict. The arguments ended last night, but owing to the fact that the weather was very warm, the case was not given to the jury until today. Jackson has maintained his composure in a remarkable manner. The case has been made notable by the scientific legal battle waged in Jackson's behalf. His defense has been as complete and as bitterly fought as that of any criminal ever tried. There was little doubt but what he would be convicted, however, from the start.

Caylor Ahead in Indiana.

South Bend, Ind., May 14.—The session of the state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Woman's Relief corps and Indiana Grand Army of the Republic ladies' convention began work at 10 o'clock Wednesday. The features of the Grand Army of the Republic meeting were the address of Commander Shively and reports of the adjutant-general and quarter-master-general. The parade was an elaborate affair, and as the veterans marched nearly four thousand school children grouped on an immense stand on the public square sung and cheered. Tonight there were three great camp-fires, at which there were addresses by National Commander Ivan N. Walker, Department Commander Shively, Gen. Lew Wallace, the Hon. James A. Mount, the Hon. Mark L. DeMotte, Valparaiso, ex-Congressmen Johnson and Cheadle and many others. The illuminated streets were made musical by passing and repassing bands until a late hour. The sentiment among Grand Army men is that H. M. Caylor of Noblesville will be the undoubted winner of the state commandership at today's election.

Cochran was chosen commander on the second ballot. Next year's encampment goes to Galesburg.

The personal property of Mrs. Black is estimated to be of the value of about $10,500.

MANY WIRES ARE DOWN

Last Night's Storm Did Considerable Damage to the County Telephone Lines.

The storm of last evening raised havoc with the local telephone equipment and the wires were down today in many parts of the county. A number of the 'phones in this city were burned out and this morning it was impossible to get Evansville. The wire was also down between here and Madison on the Fort Atkinson line.

It doesn't pay to buy advertising blindly, no matter how good it is. If you are selling $1,000 a week at a gross profit of 25 per cent. and can increase the sales to $1,250 at a cost of $50 for advertising, you are a clear $1250 ahead. Rent and clerk hire, light and heat and interest all go on just the same, whether you sell $1,000 or $1,250.

TEMPLIN CASE WON BY COMPANY.

Jury Decides That the Lad Is Not Entitled to Damages.

The jury in the case of F. Templin, against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, found for the defendant at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It will be remembered that the plaintiff, with two other boys under ten years of age, were arrested by an agent of the company about a year ago on the charge of train wrecking. They were out picking up wood and left some on the track. John Cunningham appeared for the plaintiff and General Winkler, of Milwaukee, for the defendant. The jury was out five hours.

M. C. WHIST CLUB'S MEETING

Members Pleasantly Entertained by Mrs. J. J. Hall Last Evening.

The closing meeting of the I. M. C. whist club took place last evening at the Prospect avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hall. It was the intention to serve supper on the lawn, but the storm prevented and the repast was served at 6:30 o'clock at small tables which were tastefully decorated with flowers. Whist then followed. The season has been a most enjoyable one for the members of the club.

SCHOOL DAY OF FIVE HOURS

HE SEEKS TO BREAK MRS. BLACK'S WILL

CHARLES A. CARPENTER BEGINS SUIT AT WAUKESHA.

Janesville Man Alleges That His Aunt's Will Was Illegal In Bequeathing Her Property, and That the Document Is Not the Last One She Made.

A contest of the will of the late Susan O. Black, of Waukesha, has been instituted by her nephew, Chas. A. Carpenter, of this city, and a hearing in the matter will take place before Judge Gris old next Tuesday. The will was dated July 8, 1893. It directs that after certain debts and expenses are paid that the remainder of the estate be disposed of as follows: To her husband James C. Black, was left the residence, 107 College avenue, with the furniture, and a carriage, robes, etc. To a niece, Eugenia Carpenter, was willed $6,000, with a portion of the table silver. To her stepsons, William E., George H. and J. A. Black, Mrs. Black gave $2,000 each; to the head of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church $150; to the American Seamen's Friend society $100. The residue of the property was given to the husband who is made sole executor. The will is contested by Charles A. Carpenter, a nephew of Mrs. Black and it is alleged that the testament was not executed according to law, that the paper alleged to be the will is not in fact the last will and testament of Mrs. Black. The personal property of Mrs. Black is estimated to be of the value of about $10,500.

SECRETARY CASSON EXPLAINS.

Omissions of Ex-Soldiers' Names the Fault of Enumerators.

In regard to reported omissions or inaccuracies in the published list of names of ex-soldiers and sailors as they appear in the census report, Secretary Casson today said: "My attention has been called several times by the press, and otherwise, to errors in the names, companies or regiments of ex-soldiers or sailors, or to the omission of names in the census report. I have taken much pains to examine the originals and compare them with the published report, and in every instance the published list is found to be like the original, except where corrections have been made by comparison with the official roster on file in the adjutant-general's office. Some of the lists received from the county clerks were very poor, calligraphically speaking, it being difficult in some instances to decipher names. When possible the names of soldiers credited to W. consin organizations have been compared and corrected with the original roster, but where this could not be done, such names have generally been compiled and published as received. If the names of any soldiers or sailors have been omitted, the fault is not in this department. We have printed all names received from the census enumerators and have added other names that have been overlooked. It will be noticed that our list contains more names than the enumerators claimed pay for. A large number of the additional names are those of soldiers who are or were in county asylums, at the time the census was taken, and seemed to have been overlooked by the local enumerators."

TO GET BIDS FOR THE ADDITION

Contractors Can Figure on the State School For Blind Extension.

An advertisement appears in the Madison State Journal, saying that sealed proposals will be received by the state board of control of the state of Wisconsin up to 3 o'clock p. m. of Tuesday, May 26, 1896, for furnishing all material and for the construction of an addition to the School for the Blind at Janesville, as per plans and specifications.

Plans and specifications for the same will be on file in the office of the state board of control, at Madison, at the Builders' Exchange, Milwaukee, and at the School for the Blind, Janesville, on and after May 12, 1896.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of two per cent. of the amount of the bid, payable to the order of Hans B. Warner, President, to be forfeited to the state of Wisconsin in case the bidder fails to enter into a contract with the board and furnish a satisfactory bond for the proper execution of the same within ten days after the acceptance of their proposal.

Bids must be sealed and addressed to "Hans B. Warner, President," and upon the envelope must appear the name and address of the bidder, and marked: "Proposal for building School for Blind addition." As the advertisement does not appear in any paper but the State Journal, The Gazette publishes the substance of it for the benefit of the local builders.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

We could make a Special Sale for a day or two but instead have decided to put in this great lot on steady sale and advise any woman to buy all she wants of these Gingham while they last.

We consider this one of the most important purchases we've ever made.

A large New York house, having too many on hand, made an unusually deep cut in the price, and we took advantage of it.

10,000 Yards

of the finest

Scotch Zephyr Gingham...

These Gingham have a world-wide reputation. They were made by John and James Anderson, and are commonly called "Anderson Zephyrs."

The assortment of styles that we show them in is something wonderful.

It is the largest shipment of fine Gingham ever received in Janesville.

They are perfectly fast in color, even the most delicate shadings.

The prices at which they have been sold all the season was 25c.

We bought this immense lot so low that we can offer them at a heretofore unheard of figure for such styles and qualities.

Our price is 15 cents.

Although commonly called Gingham, they are almost like silk, so fine and even are the threads.

Their extreme fineness gives them a smooth, lustrous, silky effect

For wear there is nothing in cotton wash fabrics more satisfactory.

We wish to particularly impress the fact upon the minds of all who read this that there is not an old style pattern in the collection.

Our pencil can give no adequate description of the beauty of these Gingham.

They must be seen.

Our Price, 15 cents....

SUPT. T. J. GALLAGHER ARRESTED

Former Janesville Man Has Trouble Over Pole Setting at Sheboygan

Supt. T. J. Gallagher, of the construction force of the Wisconsin Telegraph company, who formerly resided here, is having trouble at Sheboygan. For the past few days a force of men under Supt. Gallagher have been at work putting up new poles in the place of the old ones. Last fall the city obtained an injunction restraining the company from erecting a new plant, confining it only to repairing the old system. Mayor Born and City Attorney Maynard believe that the work is being done in violation of the court's injunction. They will commence proceedings for contempt, but in order to stop the work while the contempt proceedings were being prepared Mayor Born had Supt. Gallagher arrested this afternoon charging him with tearing up pavements without the consent of the board of public works. As no poles can be erected without taking up pavement this will stop further progress. Gallagher was taken before the municipal judge, Judge George H. Noyes of Milwaukee, appearing for the company. It was stipulated that Gallagher should be released, and with the city and company appear before Judge Gleson at Kewaunee next Friday and secure an interpretation of the city injunction. The company claims that under it it has a right to erect new poles higher than the old ones, but the city claims that this is not repairing but rebuilding. If Judge Gleson's decision favors the company the work will be continued. The city's demands are that the company shall ask for a franchise which shall contain an exact statement of the price of its rentals.

BEDRIDDEN.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

The Doctors Wanted Seven Hundred Dollars to Attempt the Case.

The following is a letter we received a short time ago from Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 602 North Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind.:

Gentlemen:—While suffering intensely from piles, I became interested in your advertisement in one of our daily papers and procured a package of your Pyramid Pile Cure from our druggist. Contrary to my expectations, the relief was instantaneous. I used two boxes of the Pile Cure and one of the Pills and am convinced that they are the only sure cure for piles on the market. I have been a sufferer from piles for fifteen years and have been confined to my bed about one-half of the time, expecting and wishing for death for the pain was so great. I went to the college here and the doctors said my case was a new one to them, the great pain having brought on a large rupture, which they wanted seven hundred dollars to cut out. I was very much afraid that death would result from the blood-poisoning which they said would result from the operation. I feel as though I can't praise the Pyramid Pile Cure and the Pyramid Pills too highly, as I am convinced that they saved my life. Before using your cure I weighed only ninety pounds and now I weigh one hundred and fifty and feel as well as I ever did in my life. You are at liberty to use this testimonial in any manner you may see fit, as I want all sufferers from this terrible disease to know that there has at last been compounded a remedy that will cure piles.

There is no need of the danger, pain and expense of a surgical operation for any form of piles. The Pyramid Pile Cure does the work without pain and is the safest and best. Remember also that the Pyramid Pills are a certain cure for constipation, acting without griping and restoring natural action of the bowels.

CONVERTS OF HARD TIMES.

It was hard times that made Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska and other great agricultural states a unit for McKinley. The farmers were fooled once but they cannot be fooled again. It is not a theory but a condition that is causing them to rally to the support of the distinguished Ohioan whose statesmanship they have justly commended in 1892. They look upon him as standing for that which is necessary to the revival of their prosperity and the promotion of their welfare. His popularity with them signifies that they are tired and sick of a policy that prevents them from doing a profitable business and obtaining a fair return for their labor. Their common sense tells them that farming can never be made to pay without a tariff so adjusted as to protect home markets against foreign invasion and increase exports of surplus products to other countries. They propose to undo the stupendous blunder for which they have paid so dearly; and that is why they insist that McKinley shall be the next president.

HOW MANY OPPOSED IT?

A few days ago it was asked how many of the papers opposing Governor Upham's re-nomination fought the treasurer-release bill when it was before the legislature. Not many answers have been heard. In the same line the Mineral Point Tribune says that if Governor Upham is to be retired for signing the treasurer-release bill all his associates on the state ticket who in any wise aided or abetted the same should be similarly punished. Only the difficulty of determining who of the state officers were involved is offered against the proposition. Rumor says that Governor Upham can give some pertinent testimony on this point, and may be impelled to do so before the state convention enters upon the work of nomination.

A HOPELESS FIGHT.

The republicans who are fighting McKinley are fighting the next administration. The tide is so strongly in favor of McKinley that it can not, by anything short of a political miracle, be arrested, or be diverted to anybody else. This can be seen without accepting the estimates of Grovernor or any other of the Ohio man's boomers. McKinley has not three-fourths or two-thirds of all the delegates who have been chosen, but he has more than half of them, and he is reasonably sure of getting much more than half of those yet to be selected. The situation is so plain that the wayfarer man, though a fool, cannot make any mistake about it. Willful blindness, pretense or misrepresentation will not change facts.

A considerable number of Wisconsin editors are "tumbling" to the fact that the wild abuse of republicans who have recently become epidemic and widespread will produce a crop of very dangerous quarrels, between now and next November. A halt should be called; it is high time the command was sounded.—Waukesha Freeman.

Ex-Governor Peck is being abused. He has suffered all that one man should in the cause of democracy and ought to be left to shoot ducks and recall the days when democratic steers got something for their trouble.

VICTIMS ARE AT REST

Mrs. Snyder and Miss Silverthorn Were Buried In the Grove Cemetery at Footville.

One of the saddest and most largely attended funerals ever held in Rock County, took place this afternoon from the M. E. church at Footville. The remains of Mrs. Mary Snyder and Miss Myrtle Silverthorn, who were killed in the accident of last Tuesday were taken from the residence this afternoon and services conducted by the Rev. Spencer of Footville were held from the church at 2 o'clock. The floral offerings were beautiful and many and the funeral procession was one of the largest ever held in the county. Both hearse were from this city, F. D. Kimball being in charge. The interment was made in the Grove cemetery near Footville.

ONE CLOSTUME FOR FIVE PLAYS.

Mary Anderson Tells the Trials of Her Early Stage Career.

Three months elapsed between Mary Anderson's first appearance on the stage and her second performance—"a heart-breaking interval," writes Mrs. De Navarro in the January number of the Philadelphia Ladies' Home Journal Manager Macaulay of Louisville, Ky., offered her his theater again for a week and she presented the chief roles in five plays—"Fazio," "The Hunchback," "Evadne," "The Lady of Lyons" and "Romeo and Juliet." Of the first week's engagement she writes: "At the end of the week I was in debt to the manager for the sum of $1, the houses having been large enough to only cover running expenses. All I gained by a week of hard work was a sad heart and a very sore throat. Besides, creditors became unpleasantly importunate, for my scanty wardrobe was not yet paid for."

"This consisted of a white satin dress, simply made, which did service for all the parts. It sparkled in silver trimming for Juliet; was covered with pink roses for Julia; became gay in green and gold for Evadne and cloudy with white lace for Pauline. The unfortunate gown owed its many changes to the nimble and willing fingers of my mother, who spent much time each day in its metamorphoses. A train of velvet, a white muslin dress and a modern black silk gown (which, like Mrs. Toodles, we thought would be so useful, but which had to be discarded after its first appearance) completed my wardrobe—surely a meager one for five plays of five acts, each requiring at least twelve gowns."

"We had built up financial as well as artistic hopes for that week and were disappointed in both. But it proved more successful than was at first thought, for shortly after Ben De Bar, one of the greatest Falstaffs of his time, engaged me for six nights at his St. Louis theater. At the end of that time I found myself in his debt for the sum of $600, but the houses had steadily improved and the press was filled with long articles enthusiastic about the present and full of predictions about the future."

PHILOSOPHY NO GOOD.

When It Runs Counter to Muscular Force in Uniform.

"Look here, mister man!" began a patrolman as he walked up to a tramp who had been hanging around the post-office and accosting pedestrians, "you want to move on out of this!"

"You mean you want me to move on?" queried the tramp.

"Yes, I do!"

"Well, that is quite a different matter. While I do not want to move on, you wish me to, and as you represent force I must go. Did it ever occur to you how this 'move on' business might be drawn out?"

"What do you mean?"

"You order me to move on. I move. A second cop gives the same order. So it goes to a third, fourth and fifth. In the course of time where am I? Instead of being in town you have moved me out into the country and I must be at the trouble of coming back. Did you ever stop to think that you make a sort of circulating library of the perfect that way?"

"You are asking alms on the street and that is against the law," replied the officer.

"All a mistake, sir. I simply request the loan of a small sum. It is either refused or granted. I may return the loan or may not. I invariably make use of the term 'loan' instead of 'give.' It not only sounds better but evades the law."

"But you are a vagrant!" persisted the officer, who hadn't any head for philosophy.

"Excuse me, sir, but you are wrong again," replied the man. "I have money to pay my way. I owe no man a penny and pay for what I get. I sleep in a regular bed, wash myself once a day and no law can make me out a vagrant."

"But I say you've got to git!" shouted the officer, as he made ready for business.

"That settles it and I git. It's a question of muscular force in uniform versus philosophy in old clothes, and muscular force carries the day. I go—you stay. Day to you!"—Detroit Free Press.

Aurora Attracts Attention.

Love Laughs Again.

Mayme Pence and Frank Stanley are to be married. The engagement was announced recently in Anderson, Ind. This puts an end to a romance in which bloodhounds and all kinds of stage effects have played a part. Stanley, during the time he has been paying attentions to the young lady, was constantly harassed by his rivals, who stole his horse and buggy on several occasions, necessitating him to swim the river going home. They assaulted him, and as a last resort, they cut off and stole Mayme's golden tresses one night while she was asleep. Two damage suits and half a dozen other litigations followed. The hair was never found.

From an Indian a Exchange.

A curious freak of nature arrived a few days ago on the farm of John Dale, just west of Oxford, O., in Indiana. A sow gave birth to a litter of seven pigs, two of which are inseparably attached. The combination consists of two distinct and complete pigs grown together along their sides from fore to the hind quarters. They are both healthy, and at last accounts were thriving.—Ex.

Stole a Barn.

Something of a new record was established by thieves in Adams county Washington, last week. They stole a big barn belonging to the county auditor, pulling it down during the night, loading it on wagons and hauling it to parts as yet unknown.

Closed a Contract in France.

New York, May 14.—O. C. Barber, president of the Diamond Match company of Chicago, arrived Wednesday from Europe on the Teutonic and is at the Waldorf. He closed an important contract with the French government for supplying them with machinery for the manufacture of matches, and is negotiating with the governments of Italy, Austria and Germany, and with Bryant & May of England.

Will Sue Milwaukee Street-Car Company

Milwaukee, Wis., May 14.—Albert Blatow, father of the little girl who was knocked down by an electric car on the 12th street line May 11, has authorized the law firm of Kleist, Bennett & Churchill to bring suit against the company for damages. Mr. Kleist said that the suit would probably be for $20,000 damages, as the child is so badly injured about the head that she may be idiotic the rest of her life.

Berlin, May 14.—Official reports received at the German foreign office from Rome deny the absurd report that Cardinal Galemberti was poisoned.

WOMEN DISCOURAGED.

GOOD AND SUFFICIENT REASONS FOR THE BLUES.

Doctors Fail to Understand Symptoms That Are Danger Signals.

A marked trait in woman's character is to place implicit confidence in her physician.

A man must work entirely from theory in the treatment of female diseases, for unfortunately facts based upon actual knowledge, belong to the female sex alone. Many women who periodically suffer with attacks of faintness, dizziness, extreme lassitude, "don't care" or want-to-be-left-alone feeling, do not at first realize that these are the infallible symptoms of womb trouble and the forerunners of great suffering.

Soon they grow to feel that the doctor does not understand their case. Then they remember that "a woman best understands a woman's ills," and turn to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter is but one positive illustration of this fact:—

"Four years ago I began to suffer with great weakness of the generative organs. My womb was prolapsed; I suffered with continual backache and all the other pains that accompany that weakness. I tried doctor after doctor, had operations. The final operation after which I became a total wreck, was scraping of the womb. A friend, one day, recommended to my husband your Compound. He bought me a bottle. The relief I experienced after taking it, was wonderful. I continued its use, and I am glad to say my recovery is a perfect surprise to everybody that knows me."—Mrs. B. LEWIS F. GRANT FELL WHILE "HARD UP"

WELL KNOWN INSURANCE MAN IN TROUBLE.

When Pressed For Money, He Used the Firm's Funds And Was Unable to Repay the Score—Friends Sympathize With Him In His Trouble.

To avoid the disgrace of being unable to meet a personal obligation, Lewis F. Grant, assistant superintendent for the Prudential Insurance company, succumbed to temptation and used the money of the company, thinking he could repay it. The money he planned on receiving did not come in, however, and today Mr. Grant was sent to jail for six months for embezzlement.

That Mr. Grant did not take the money with criminal intent, is freely admitted, but as he could not repay it, but one course was open to his bondsmen, the American Surety Co. of New York, and its agents were compelled to prosecute him.

Mr. Grant has been in the employ of the company for four years. It was charged that he had collected two sums of money, $76.53 and $18.23, but failed to remit them to James Reid, superintendent of the Milwaukee district to whom he was accountable. Mr. Reid was forced to notify the Chicago office of the company of the shortage and Grant's bondsmen were notified.

Inspector Sent Out.

The Surety company at once took hold of the case, and sent Wm. S. Warner, one of their most trusted inspectors, to this city to investigate. Mr. Warner came to Janesville to look over the ground. He found that Mr. Reid's statement was correct, and that Grant had collected the money but had not "turned it in." He made a complaint against Grant charging him with embezzlement, and Grant was arrested on May 1. He waived examination, gave bail, and has since been at liberty. He owned some property here, upon which he hoped to raise the money to settle the claim. In this he was unsuccessful, and decided that the only thing left for him to do was "to face the music." Accordingly, he was brought into the municipal court this morning, and entered a plea of guilty. When asked if he had anything to say, he told his sad story.

Yielded to Temptation

"I could not pay some bills I owed," he said, "and used the money to avoid humiliation. I was certain that I could pay it back, but found that I could not. Then I tried to raise the money, but found that it was of no use, and so decided to plead guilty." Six months in jail was the sentence imposed, and Grant began his term this morning.

Grant has made many friends by his gentlemanly conduct since he has been in Janesville, who will be pained to know that he is in trouble. People who know him, will refuse to believe that he was actuated by criminal intent, and will sympathize with him now that he is "down."

"We had no desire to persecute Mr. Grant," said Inspector Warner, "but as there was no other course open we were compelled to prosecute him. Our company is on the bonds of eight thousand employees of this one insurance company, and its interests, directly and by example, must be protected."

Matter Kept Very Quiet.

"Consequently there was no other course open to us. We kept the matter very quiet in order to allow Mr. Grant an opportunity to make a settlement. This he was unable to do, so I proceeded against him. His bond with us was for $500."

Mr. Reid and Mr. Warner were both in the city today. Mr. Reid is the superintendent of the Milwaukee district and Grant worked under him, having the territory including Janesville and Beloit.

Mr. Warner has been in the employ of the surety company for some time, and has the reputation of being an exceptionally acute inspector. The company maintains its own detective bureau, and law department. When an employee for whom it is surety, is reported, the company pays the shortage, and deals with the offender to reimburse itself.

Fred F. Norcross, son of Captain and Mrs. Pliny Norcross, is the company's attorney in Chicago.

PYTHIAN GRAND COUNCIL TO COME

Janesville Chosen as the Next Place of Meeting By Sir Knights.

Janesville is to be the next rallying place for Knights of Pythias. So Ogden H. Fethers telegraphs to Chancellor Commander H. S. Sloan from Fond du Lac, where Wisconsin Pythians are in session. Janesville's victory is the result of a most energetic campaign. Three hundred Sir Knights attended the grand council last year and the meeting is made doubly important by the high social and business standing of the delegates.

FIRE AT HANOVER COSTS $10,700

FREEMAN ARNOLD'S STORE DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Building, and the Stock of Goods Owned by S. L. Kemmerer Are In Ashes—Former Loses $1,200 and the Latter $9,500 Incendiary Is Responsible.

Freeman Arnold's store burned at Hanover last night and incendiary is suspected. The losers are: Freeman Arnold, owner of the property. Loss $1,200. Insurance $500. S. L. Kemmerer, occupant of the building. General merchandise dealer. Loss $9,500. Insurance $7,000.

The fire started at one o'clock in the morning and nothing could be done to check it.

The building was a two story frame structure, with steel roof. It was about 60x24 feet and had been appraised at $1,200. W. F. Williams, clerk of the municipal court, is the general guardian of Mr. Arnold, and was notified of the fire this morning.

Negotiations were pending for the sale of the property to the Modern Woodmen. Mr. Arnold's insurance policy was written the Concordia company.

Mr. Kemmerer, the occupant of the building, is known here, as he conducted a store on North Main street for some time, in the quarters now occupied by R. H. Pickering & Company. He removed from this city to Hanover a short time ago and his stock was valued at $9,500.

The note to Mr. Williams said that it was believed that the fire was of incendiary origin. The light of the fire could be seen in this city.

THE BEAUTY PATCH.

tints of lily and rose, and blonde curls upon her forehead that played like wandering butterflies.

His eyes were dark and deeply set, and his face expressed the solitary, the misanthrope; but his downy cheek would flush at any innocent jest, revealing in his smile small white teeth.

He had been destined for the priesthood, and had lately come from the college of the Jesuits with his head filled with scholastic and theological teachings. He was awkward, timid, embarrassed, inept in music and dancing, unable to make a bow, but with a fresh voice and the face of a cherub. He sang only in chorus, never looked at himself in a large mirror, and his sole suit was one of black cloth. Nightly vigils had given him a resemblance to a half-open rosebud ready to bloom.

Their parents, in their wisdom, had decided to unite these two young persons, and at the moment this narrative opens the old marquis was giving a severe reproof to his son because he displayed so little eagerness in carrying out his desires.

"Think, young sir, that upon you rests the continuance of our race. Put away this melancholy air. Remember you are a man who, as equal to the king, should not tremble before a sword, a drinking bout, or a petticoat."

"Oh, signor!" cried the youth. "What is it? You blush like a cherry! By Bacchus! You learned little in your seminary! Can you handle a sword?"

"No, no, signor."

"Why so much praying there?"

"Because my confessor bade me repeat them 1,000 times. The chariot of the devil would carry me to perdition, and I wish to be saved and not go to that unpleasant place."

"Tut, tut, tut! First of all, please me by doing what I wish. To you I give a betrothed worthy of you by her birth, by her youth, by her intelligence and her beauty. What more do you want?"

"My wants are much less, signor, if you will pardon my saying so."

"Imbecile! My word and honor are at stake. Think of the dignity conferred. The presentation will take place soon at the ball where Signorina d'Estournel will appear in her splendor. Strive to please her."

"But, signor—"

"I have spoken. You will find in your chamber attire much more suitable than this funeral garb. Jasmin will aid you in making your toilet. Be quick, my son."

Jasmin combed and curled his young master's hair, substituted for the heavy shoes he had worn a pair of tight slippers with silver buckles and put upon him the usual white lawn shirt adorned with lace.

Silvandro endured this change with a sufficiently good grace, but the idea of exposing himself to view as the suitor of a girl he had never seen caused him to feel indignant.

When alone, he cast his eyes over his person, resplendent with well-fitting knee breeches and garments that sparkled with silvery luster. His aspect was greatly improved. But he would not be overcome by vanity and, resisting the influence of the evil one, which made to glitter in his eyes this silk and velvet, reflecting the soft shades of his hair, he flattened out his curling locks, scorning the joy which his fine appearance aroused in him.

"This maiden whom they wish to marry to me must have some Christian sentiments, since she has but lately come from a convent. I may be able to turn her thoughts to spiritual things, and, pleading for myself, recover my independence, and follow my own way of life.

What if she should laugh at his sermon and sermonizing? No; for a grave discourse a decent and severe habit was necessary. There was in his wardrobe an elegant black cloth suit. This he now donned after a slight debate. Would he have a too forbidding appearance? There was no necessity of frightening the young lady.

He cast a furtive glance into the mirror. No; there was nothing to frighten one in the image he saw reflected there. Nevertheless, he provoked a movement of surprise when he made his entrance into the hall.

"That cannot be my betrothed; it is a priest!" Signorina d'Estournel whispered to the marquis.

"You are right; he is very unsuitably attired." And the old gentleman shot a lightning flash of his eyes at his son.

To hesitate is to be lost. The cavalier, his heart encased in triple bronze, passed on, apparently insensible to the furious glances of his parent, to the repressed mirth of Solange and jest of his cousins. Coming before the signorina, who, with eyes archly cast to one side, regarded him coyly from beneath her long lashes, he bowed, and with a voice full of entreaty begged of her the favor of a minuet.

"At last he is aroused!" grumbled the marquis. "But what a gawk! Who ever saw such a dancer?"

Silvandro retained all the dignity of a prophet king dancing before a tomb. He accomplished the "figure" with imperturbable sang froid and dropped his cassock upon the floor. At heart, despite of his seeming impassiveness, he began to feel confused, and a sort of giddiness assailed him. Under the fiery cross he intended to bear would be lost a superb dancer. Without lifting his eyes he divined the ironical smile that went round, the biting epigrams.

An officer of the Royal Dauphins, in a lieutenant's uniform, mustached, and having the air of a lady-killer, glared particularly upon his nerves. He suspected the significance of the glances that passed between him and Solange. Oh, if he could keep her from him forever!

Brought face to face with the young lady, he had wished to begin his discourse. But moved by the influence of the ball, the sounds of the orchestra, or other causes, he could not find the proper words.

"Barbarous parents, to disdain our saintly vocation—"

Speaking in the plural was all very fine.

"Only an angel himself were worthy of such angelic spouse—of whom—to whom—"

Groping for words he lost the thread of his discourse, and became more and more involved, hypnotized by the gloss of a velvet beauty patch, and a delicious dizziness which came with the coquettish glance above the vermilion cheek of Solange.

"Beside, one may have a call. May there not be a new Paracelsus, growing in grace, in virtue, in sanctity." She looked at him in astonishment, trembling from head to foot and biting her lips. And then came the brief moment of giddiness.

"The church will not lose a servant, nor philosophy a genius, like—like—"

A bell-like ripple of laughter interrupted him. Yes, Solange laughed! Red, disconcerted, he waited for her mirth to pass.

"Pardon me; but it is too amusing!"

And she smothered in her handkerchief a new attack of mirth.

"Signorina, please do not laugh at me!"

"But is it not ridiculous?" responded Solange, dryly.

Ridiculous! This to one who thought himself a stoic philosopher! Her words deeply wounded the self-love of the young man.

"Well," she said, "your frankness allows me equal liberty of speech. I shall therefore decline—"

"Ah, no, no!" cried Silvandro, with knitted brows. This was a service he did not wish to receive from her.

"But, perhaps, you prefer the officer who was our vis-a-vis just now?"

"Perhaps."

"I am complimented," said Silvandro, between his teeth.

Solange watched him with half-closed eyes, and again the giddiness seized him.

"Please conduct me to my aunt, signor."

"At your command, signorina."

But instead of taking her hand to assist her in rising, Silvandro seated himself beside the lady.

"Come, signorina," he said, "let us be friends. You desire it?"

"Assuredly."

"Let me treat you with the honesty of a brother. I may be able to give you good counsel. That officer, your cousin—I know him by reputation—is unworthy of you."

"Truly?"

"Yes; he is a scapegrace—dissolute—a man without principle. He would render you unhappy—"

"Can this be true?"

"Do not doubt it. He has impressed you by his soft words, but he is a boaster who has little truth to support what he says."

"I have suspected as much."

Again that strange giddiness.

"He makes me appear, perhaps, cold, indifferent, while in reality my heart beats—feel it beat now."

It is true. Beneath the soft hand of his companion the heart of the poor cavalier was beating a gamut of emotions.

"You know what that means, signorina; you know what I feel, it says to you—"

Silvandro had become truly eloquent. But all the fires of rhetoric were nothing when compared with these caressing words which fell softly upon the ears of Solange.

Speaking in a low tone, he bent over her—so near to her that his face—so near—

"Eh, signor, you are not a man for the church, but for the sword!" exclaimed the handsome lieutenant, whom he was condemning but a moment since.

"Signor, you insult me!"

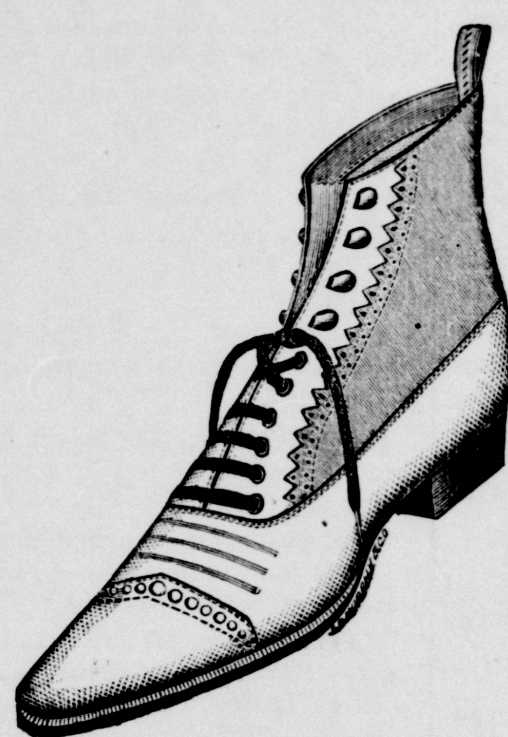

"Look out for yourself, then!"

The officer drew from his pocket a small mirror, which he held before the eyes of the cavalier. Alas! This proceeding caused a nightmare which did not pass as it came, for the patch from the cheek of the lady was upon the neophyte's lip!
